VELCRO POLISHING SPONGE

Polishing sponges are used for polishing and sanding varnish coats of various types. An impressive polishing effect is achieved by the high quality of material the sponge is made of. Depending on the operation being performed, it is possible to select a sponge of an appropriate hardness (hard, medium and very soft). Polishing sponges can be used together with pneumatic or electric driven polishing machines. They enable both dry and wet sanding within the speed range of 600 to 2000 rpm at most without loading.

Available with three types of threads: M14 and with a sticker.
